LuxeLegs

FOR OPERATORS

Share jobs with other operators for free

No LuxeLegs fee or commission to share or take a job while you list and sell your empty legs with us. Card fees and fair use apply; see luxe-legs.com/terms.

HOW IT WORKS

1 — You share the job
On the Shared jobs page or from your booking system. You set the price.

2 — LuxeLegs checks it
Rules and an AI review. Clear jobs go live. Others wait for a LuxeLegs admin.

3 — An operator accepts
The first verified operator with a checked car of the right class takes it.

4 — They get the job
On their Shared jobs page, by email, and as a GNet booking on GNet.

WHAT YOU CONTROL

Your price
You set the price, at or above £0.55 a road mile. The first operator to accept takes the job.

Who sees it
All verified operators, your LuxeNetwork groups, or operators you pick. Both need verified documents.

Passenger details
Shown only once an operator accepts. Passenger name and phone are encrypted.

Changes
If you cancel, they are emailed. A job handed back goes live again if more than 60 minutes remain.

YOUR BOOKING SYSTEM

Share a job from the Shared jobs page or from your booking system through the Partner API, whichever system the other operator uses. On GNet, a job you take arrives as a GNet booking and cancellations follow it.

CHECKS ON EVERY JOB

LuxeLegs rejects a job priced under £0.55 a road mile, with a pickup under 60 minutes or over 30 days away, or shared twice. Rules and an AI review look for signs of misuse, such as bursts of jobs or notes asking for bank details. Anything unclear waits for our team.

FILL THE DRIVE BACK WITH LUXEROUTE

Taking a shared job often leaves your car to drive back empty. List that drive as an empty leg with a LuxeRoute allowance, such as 25% or 25 miles for the whole deviation, and travellers whose trip runs along your route can book it, not only those going between the same two places. More travellers can book it, so the job pays better.

FEES

No LuxeLegs fee or commission
LuxeLegs charges no fee or commission to share or take a job while you list and sell your empty legs with us. On Pro (£99 a month) and Corporate (£299 a month), LuxeLegs also pays the card fee where a shared job is paid by card through LuxeLegs. Fair use applies on all plans; see luxe-legs.com/terms.

Launch (£0 a month)
LuxeLegs pays the card fee if you sold at least £250 of empty legs through LuxeLegs last month. Below that, a job paid by card through LuxeLegs carries the card fee at cost, 1.5% plus £0.20 (£3.20 on £200). You choose who pays it: you, the other operator or half each.
